CHINESE LANDSCAPE PAINTING

SPACE, ATMOSPHERE, EXPERIENCE, IMAGINATION

The scroll is a formal way of representing Chinese Paining. Horizontal scroll is about depicting the scene in a large scale, vertical is more about narrative of the depth of one scene. This piece of horizontal scroll shows a very large scale of content in such a narrow vertical dimension. The whole piece of work is about 5 meters (200 inch) 3 months of continuous work. The narrowness allows a more vivid imagination of the image beyond the paper. It is a combination and transaction of multiple geographical scenes. It is a combination and transaction of multiple geographical scenes. It is about an imaginary world. It is not just a simple record of the nature; it is the feeling and interpretation of the nature. It is atmosphere. It is a story telling by weaving among the spaces.
